The Spielman Theatre has a tiered retractable bank with a low banquette front row. The audience access aisle runs up one side of the seating bank - to the audience's left. There is no access to the seating from the right-hand side (seating abuts the wall).

Chair storage

Unless arranged otherwise the space between the back tab track and the back wall will be used to store chair trolleys and will not be useable space. LX 9 is the last useable LX bar in front of the tab.

Note for designers: When creating a design that potentially needs this space, designers must have confirmation from the Senior Technician before finalizing their plans.

The Spielman Theatre is a mixed-use space and is also used for workshops, youth theatre, community classes and hires. This means there is a possibility we will ask you to strike set and props as well as clear down the dressing room between shows.

Fire exits

There are two fire exits from the auditorium, one on each side of the stage. These need to be kept clear at all times.

The lobby corridors that these exits lead to must also be kept clear at all times.

The Building

The Tobacco Factory is a creative, mixed-use community building. The building has a creative and collaborative buzz about it, with several businesses within the building working together. Tobacco Factory Theatres is a part of this larger building; which can create both opportunities and also challenges.
